

Writing Clear Software Procedures

Before

In order to save the workflow that you have created, you need to click on the button called Save so that the system will save your workflow.

After

Select Save.

Writing principles applied

Use active voice

Instead of:

The workflow is saved by the administrator.

Use:

The administrator saves the workflow.

Use imperative mood

Select Save.

Use exact UI labels

Use Save, not "the Save button."

Avoid unnecessary words

Don't write:

In order to Write:

To

Use consistent terminology

If you use workflow throughout the documentation, don't switch between:

- workflow
- process
- task flow
- approval process

unless they represent different concepts.